“Look at the birds of the air, for they neither sow nor reap nor gather into barns; yet your heavenly Father feeds them. Are you not of more value than they?

JESUS describing God in Matthew 6:26.

"O Jerusalem, Jerusalem, the one who kills the prophets and stones those who are sent to her! How often I wanted to gather your children together, as a hen gathers her brood under her wings, but you were not willing!" -- JESUS, Luke 13:34 (repeated in Matthew 23: 37)

Song Story No. It's NOT in the Bible. I've comforted many children, friends, myself especially at the sorrow of Samson my super-loving cat dying in November 2010, with this FACT: NO-where in the Bible does it say that animals are NOT allowed into heaven. The "theological" reason is that animals have no souls. Here's my logical reasoning process:

1. After God created each set of things -- including animals -- God's Word says that He "saw that it was good," in Genesis 1. EXCEPT after he created male and female people (1:27). Think about that one:) God blessed Adam and Eve.

2. Heaven is a place for worshipping our Great God. Even the stars and planets can do that (Psalm 19) -- unless you think God through David in Psalm 19 lies. Even the stones you walk on can praise God (Luke 19: 40) ---unless you think Jesus was exaggerating ("lying with a purpose in mind").

3. Jesus compared HIS love to the love of a mother hen gathering her chicks in a storm. (Both Luke 13:34 and Matthew 23:37 emphasized these words of love.) So..... was Jesus using major exaggeration or was He using the example that hens care about their little chicks? By analogy --- think of all the other animals that have shown caring -- toward their babies... or toward people like you.

The chorus of this song was written after a day of playing with my pets and watching wild birds, I found myself thinking, "I'd miss animals in heaven." And then found myself wondering: "Why do we humans assume that God limits heaven to humans and His angels? It's His World in Heaven as well as on Earth... He can do anything He wants, including populate heaven with His critters. God made us in His image, to become like Him especially including in Love (Genesis 1:26-27, Hebrews 2:17, First John 3:2). So if many of us would miss our animals friends, then.... :)

The chorus was put on the website in 2009. The rest of the song awaited God's 2011 inspiration of more ideas -- including all of these scriptures He guided me to really notice. And it awaited my ability to create the right music with the tools of studio gear I did not have two years earlier. And increased skills in tempo changes back and forth-- really REALLY needing God's help!
