Song Story: My collie Jacob and I went hiking in a driving powdery snow. It was so cool (literally:) when I got home and could just brush the snow off his back.... no smelly dog fur. I was studying God's Names as revealed in the Bible during the time of the snowfall... but I don't know how I made the connection to create this cool song except one answer: God helped me see the parable and develop the song that makes His names easy-to-remember. The initial piano arpeggios were fun to develop to imitate falling snow and rain. The initial concept came from one of my favorite verses, Exodus 3:14, where God identifies Who He is by saying, simply: "I AM WHO I AM."
